PASTOR'S REFLECTIONS

Can we trust God when He gives us freedom? Today's readings present God as the Lord of the vineyard—the One who cares and lovingly places His work in our hands. The prophet Isaiah tells a song about a vineyard that, despite the owner's care, does not bear good fruit. In the Gospel, Jesus warns against closing our hearts and rejecting the Son who comes to reap the harvest. Saint Paul calls us to a life filled with prayer, gratitude, and imitating what is good—this is the path of trust that generates peace. God does not take away our freedom, but trusts that we will respond to His love with goodness. Instead of fear, He gives us the opportunity to become collaborators in His grace. Let us listen to the word that invites us to mature freedom and trust in God, who does not abandon us.

OCTOBER – MONTH OF THE ROSARY

Today is the first Sunday of October. In churches and in family communities, we have begun praying the Rosary. Taking the Rosary in our hands, through the intercession of Mary, Mother of God, let us ask her Son for mercy for us and the whole world. I encourage you to participate in daily Holy Mass and in the October devotion celebrated in our church at 6:30 PM. For those who find it harder to get to church, I ask you to pray the Rosary at home. In his 2002 Apostolic Letter "Rosarium Virginis Mariae," Saint John Paul II wrote: "Through the Rosary, the believer draws an abundance of grace, receiving it, as it were, directly from the hands of the Mother of the Redeemer."

PLENARY INDULGENCE

Let us remember and remind others that for reciting one part of the Rosary, that is, five mysteries continuously, one can gain a plenary indulgence. Let us take advantage of these spiritual benefits the Church bestows upon us. On Sundays and Wednesdays, we pray the glorious mysteries; on Mondays and Saturdays, the joyful mysteries; on Tuesdays and Fridays, the sorrowful mysteries; and on Thursdays, the luminous mysteries.

OUR LADY OF ROSARY

In this spirit, we will also celebrate the liturgical commemoration of Our Lady of the Rosary, which falls on Wednesday, October 7. This is also the day of our Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help and Multiple Intentions Mass.

SISTER FAUSTINA KOWALSKA

And earlier, on Monday, October 5, we commemorate the liturgical commemoration of an exceptional Polish saint – Sister Faustina Kowalska (1905-1938) of the Congregation of the Sisters of Our Lady of Mercy. Through her intercession, let us pray for God's mercy for us and for the whole world. Let us, Poles, be an example by imitating the spirituality and piety of Saint Faustina.
